In this exhibit, we challenge artists to submit work that expresses the unique rhythm and compelling qualities of the place you call Home – the people, the buildings, the natural landscapes, etc. What is it about this place that stirs your soul and wins your heart? What is it that outsiders may not notice upon first glance? Home can be the place you were born, a place you left and now long for, or a place you found during your life's journey. Artists may submit representational, abstract and conceptual works of art, ranging from drawings, paintings, collage, and photographic and digital art.

Submission Process

Please send your submissions to the Exhibit Curator, Amanda Barron

Details and Rules

- All artwork must be the artist's original work.
- All work must be ready for hanging with hooks and wire on the back. Artwork without proper hanging wire will not be displayed.
- Prohibited subjects include political statements, commercial advertising, and subject matter not suited for a public display space and/or minors.

- Zufall Health reserves the right to refuse art that does not conform to the above standards.
- The selection committee has final say on determining the eligibility of the artwork.
- Eligibility: Artists must be over 18 years of age.
- Insurance: The artists must insure their own art. Zufall Health is a secure, professional building and all consideration and measures will be taken to secure the art.
- Zufall Health and the Exhibit Curator, Amanda Barron, are not responsible for any damaged or broken artwork and frames with glass. Plexiglass is a better option for framed pieces.
- Zufall Health DOES NOT charge any commission in case of sales. Any sale transactions will be directly between the artist and collector.
